CHECK FORGER IS GIVEN NEW PRISON TERM

Bernard T. Henry, of Breckenridge St. and Hanover, will go back to the Allegheny County Workhouse for approximately two years as a result of sentences imposed by the Adams County court this morning.

Henry, approximately 2900 behind on payments of costs and restitution listed against him in connection with the parole he was on after having served six months at the workhouse on a six- to 12-month sentence on a bad check charge, was due in court this morning to explain why his parole should not be revoked for failing to pay as scheduled.

He appeared in court today with four new check forgery charges against him, having given a check to Bigman's Meat Market, Breckenridge St., for $40.50 purporting to be a pay check he received for "painting"; having also given two checks each for $30, also purporting to be pay checks "for painting," to Hetrick's Service Station; for having cashed also a purported "pay check" for "painting" for $30 at Kenzie's Market and for having cashed a check for $30, also purporting to be a pay check for "painting," at Roger's Sunoco Center.

New Oxford Man Sentenced
Richard A. Bigman, Stuart L. Hetrick, R. Kenneth Foust and Roger W. Hoffnagle were the prosecutors in the four cases.

The court revoked Henry's parole, which gives him six more months to serve on that sentence, then sentenced him to one-half to two years on the four new charges to begin at the expiration of the six months of the prior sentence. The court observed that "for the next two years at least you will be at the workhouse."

John Louis Gebhart, New Oxford R. 1, charged with the burglary of the McSherrystown Fish and Game Association, was sentenced to 1½ to three years in the Allegheny County Workhouse.

Other Burglary Cases
Richard Allen Hertz, Hanover R. 4, charged with Gebhart in the fish and game burglary, was given from six months to a year in the county jail. Both were directed to make restitution of $75 and pay the costs.

FIREMEN END LONG FESTIVAL ON SATURDAY

The Gettysburg Fire Department Saturday night concluded its annual festival in connection with the observance of the 97th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

No estimated was made on how many thousands people attended the affair which began July 1 and continued for eight nights. Donald Hammers, treasurer for the Battle Anniversary committee, said the gross income was approximately $25,000 and may reach $26,000 when all sums are reported in.

Profit from the festival was still undetermined. Normally the "net" runs about 40 per cent of the gross but this year with the extended period for the festival, additional expense was involved.

Longest In History

The festival was the longest in the history of the fire department, a record that may stand. Tired firemen at the end of the nine-day program which included eight nights of festival, plus the time spent in preparing for the event, were hopeful of returning to a one-week only affair. The nine-day plan was decided upon when owners of the rides reported they could not "split the second week." Because of the battle anniversary connection the festival is always scheduled to extend over July 1 through 3.

A number of awards were provided individuals in connection with the closing night of the event. They included a freezer to Caroline Weikert, care of General Weikert; automatic washer, Rube Showers, Benderville; a television set, Mrs. Richard Cole, Stevens St.; a rifle, Bud Sanders, R. 5; a reclining chair, Julian Estep; a dinette set, Elmer Palmer, New Oxford; a rotary lawn mower, Philip Cole, Stevens St.; a lawn set, P. T. Hayne, Arlington, Va.; and a window fan, Kenneth Tawney, R. 4.

Decoration For Kennedy

Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts wears lei presented to him on July 9 arrival at Los Angeles Airport to head his drive for the Democratic presidential nomination. Democratic Convention Opens Today With Kennedy As "Sure Winner" For Top Ticket Spot

By JACK BELL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Democratic National Convention opens today with Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts booked solidly as a sure shot for the party's presidential nomination.

Barring some unforeseen last-hour development, Kennedy seemed likely to walk away with the coveted prize in balloting beginning Wednesday. Whether he would take it on the first count still was somewhat problematical. But that he would take it there remained little doubt.

Crestfallen rivals kept their campaigns going. But Adlai E. Stevenson, a two-time winner of jacks in this political gamble, said he was willing to accept a Cabinet post as a consolation prize.

Johnson Chances Slim

There were some rather strong indications that supporters of Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) were about to toss in the sponge. They denied this, of course, but the seeming futility of opposing the Kennedy juggernaut impressed itself deeply on some Symington backers.

Steve Langmade, Arizona national committeeman, told a reporter he understands consideration is being given in the Symington camp to releasing the 104 convention votes supporters claim the Missouri senator has nailed down on the first ballot.

Any such action could be a fatal blow to the efforts of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas to hold the line in the early counting and thus open the way for selection later of either himself or some other candidate.

Truman Reverses Again

Langmade is pledged to Kennedy on the first ballot and said he will stick through the second tally. If additional votes are needed, Langmade said, he is prepared to switch to Johnson on the third counting.

WINE DRINKING IS FOLLOWED BY STABBING

Jack Billingslae, 24, also known as J. B. King, a negro migrant worker from Aspers R. 1, was a patient in the Warner Hospital today suffering from two stab wounds in the stomach and one in the right chest.

State police arrested Ivan Turner, 31, of Philadelphia and Aspers R. D., on charges of aggravated assault and battery and assault with intent to kill and placed him in the county jail. Mrs. Anna Butler, 32, Philadelphia and Aspers, who told Sheriff Dawson Miller she is Turner's common-law wife, was also being held as a material witness.

According to police, the knife apparently occurred at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night at the home of Charles Smith, negro, Aspers R. 1, as a result of a fracas between Billingslae and Turner.

Police said they understood from the principals the fracas had started over the quantity of wine constituting "all you can drink."

The officers said they learned that Turner had a bottle of wine. Billingslae wanted some of the wine and was told he could have all he could drink for $1. Turner understood that to mean all Billingslae could drink without removing the bottle from his lips. Billingslae discovered this was Turner's intent after he had taken a few sips and sat the bottle down. The argument began at that spot and continued until the knife, police said.

Police placed the charges against Turner before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

More than 20 divers took turns descending to the 90-foot car that lay in about 55 feet of water under the tangled folds of its deflated envelope and thousands of yards of cables. Each diver spent approximately 45 minutes to an hour under water.

Joseph P. Barder Jr., 104 W. High St., was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for one year on condition he pay $100 for the use of the county and the costs and stay away from alcoholic beverages during the year. Barder was charged by Borough Special Policeman Levere C. Hamme with resisting arrest. Hamme told the court he was on duty when the car came up "with women squealing in it and Mrs. Barder lying on the rear seat bleeding from the nose and mouth."

Drink Caused Trouble

Hamme said he took Barder to the borough police office to await the police car to transport him to jail for committing assault and battery on his wife. "Mrs. Barder came up and Barder hit her again, in the office, while I was there. I set him down on the chair again and he got up again and Mrs. Barder went out the door and he went out the door and I went out the door after him. I caught him on the stairway and while I tussled with him I pleaded with him not to hit his wife again. With some help I finally got him subdued."

Barder claimed he hit his wife only once and said he got into trouble only when he was drinking. He revealed he and Mrs. Barder were "on friendly terms. We went back together as soon as I got out of jail."

PARTIES RULE SUNDAY NIGHT AT CONVENTION

By ARTHUR EDSON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Democrats have proved conclusively that, given the opportunity, they can celebrate as high and as handsomely as the richest Republican.

The party went partying Sunday, and, man and candidate, what partying!

The big show was a double-decker $100 a plate affair at the Beverly Hilton, Los Angeles' plushiest hotel.

Crack From Adlai

Around 2,500 turned out for the two-ballroom job in which the four presidential aspirants in the convention opening today trotted from one hall to the other to repeat their gems.

The route between halls led through the kitchen, which brought this crack from Adlai E. Stevenson: "I've been through the kitchen so many times the last time through they offered me a job."

In addition to the glamor performance, featuring the candidates, a big outside, free-for party was held for delegates and alternates in a department store parking lot across the street.

300-Foot Bar

Tables were set up to provide a bar 300 feet long. Forty-eight bartenders tended furiously. Fifty-six waiters whipped about rescuing used glasses. The booze was stacked in cases under the tables like eggs in crates at a chick hatchery.

A brass band and an orchestra provided music, and then, because Democrats traditionally play it poornouth even when they're wallowing in it, girls circulated through the crowd peddling a new Democratic cook book. At $3 apiece, the books are supposed to raise money to put the candidate on television.

For the record, Stevenson, who has the fewest delegates, got the most applause. But Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who wandered in while the program was in progress, got more applause than anybody.

U. S. BEAUTY WINS CROWN

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Linda Bement, 18, a Salt Lake City girl, faced a problem of excess baggage today as she prepared to return home after a clean sweep of honors in the Miss Universe beauty pageant.

Linda came to Florida 10 days ago as Utah's representative in the pageant. She became Miss USA Thursday and Miss Universe of 1960 Saturday night. Her assets included a figure of 37-23-36 carried on a 5-foot-6 frame.

"I don't know how I'll ever get this trophy home," the raven-haired beauty said. "Daddy may have to build another room just to keep it."

The Miss Universe trophy stands three feet high and weighs more than 20 pounds. In addition, Linda received a check for $5,000 as Miss Universe winner and a personal appearance contract for another $5,000.

She said she probably would accompany her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Bement, on a plane trip to Utah Tuesday unless pageant officials wanted her for personal appearances immediately.

BOY SURVIVES LIFE BELT TRIP OVER NIAGARA

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — The odds against young Rodger Woodward's surviving his 161-foot tumble down the Horseshoe Falls were 100 million to one, a state engineer says.

Rodger, 7, was swept over the falls Saturday when a motorboat in which he, his sister, and a family friend were riding capsized in the upper Niagara River. His sister, Deanne, 17, was plucked from the swirling rapids at the brink by two New Jersey tourists.

The boat's owner, James Honeycutt, 40, of Niagara Falls, was missing and presumed drowned.

Picked Bright Falls

The life jacket the boy was wearing saved his life, said Roger Williams, executive secretary and chief engineer of the Niagara Frontier State Parks Commission.

Rodger landed in a 180-foot well at the base of the falls. Authorities believe that unlike the foot of the Horseshoe Falls is free of fallen rock. There is no record of anyone surviving a plunge over the American Falls.

Rodger was in good condition Sunday night at Greater Niagara General Hospital in Niagara Falls, Ont. Doctors said he didn't need as much as an aspirin.

U. S. MAY GET
HUNT AVENUE

The Wright property at Hunt Ave. and the Taneytown Rd., once believed destined to become a wax museum, may soon become part of the battlefield.

National Park Superintendent James B. Myers said today he had been informed by National Park officials at Washington that, as a result of conversations between park officials at Washington and the National Civil War Wax Museum of Washington, arrangements are well underway for the federal government to become the owners of the property.

The National Civil War Wax Museum purchased the 10-acre property in March from Harry S. and Jeannette H. Wright for $45,000.

Superintendent Myers said he understood agreements had been signed by the owners of the National Civil War Wax Museum to sell the land to the government.

However to clear the title, the purchase will be made by a friendly condemnation proceeding through federal courts.

The Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States sought to purchase the Wright property shortly before it was sold to the wax museum company, offering $22,300. The Loyal Legion was interested in purchasing the property to turn it over to the government because of its connection with Lincoln and General Meade, who was a member of the Loyal Legion.

The Wright property lies diagonally across the Taneytown Rd. from Meade's headquarters and a few hundred yards south of the National Cemetery. It is directly across the road from the new entrance to the National Park's visitors' center now being constructed.

TACOMA (AP)—A female chimpanzee, trained to change a baby's diapers, seized a six-month-old girl from her stroller Sunday and refused for 20 minutes to surrender the infant.

Little Marcia Lynn Ebert was returned unharmed to her mother, Mrs. Frederick Ebert, after the chimp had completed a diaper change under surveillance of a state patrolman and store officials.

The incident occurred in a Tacoma department store which keeps the chimp for publicity purposes and lets it circulate among the customers on a leash.

Candidate For Congress Nabbed

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Charles J. McCabe, Buffalo's acting mayor and the endorsed Democratic candidate for the 42nd Congressional District seat, faces a drunken driving charge.

McCabe, who is filling in while Mayor Frank Sedita attends the Democratic national convention, was arrested Saturday night—shortly before the end of his first day as mayor, police said.

McCabe, 45, is a city councilman-at-large and the father of 14 children.

3-D DIALING

inate in Gettysburg can, with a few twists of the dial, reach without operator aid over 42 million telephones in 42 states, five Canadian provinces and the District of Columbia. In spite of the wide range available, until Chambersburg, York and Spring Grove, currently not dialable, are added to the network later this year, Hanover, Harrisburg and New Oxford will be the most frequently called points for Gettysburg telephone users. The new service is limited to station-to-station calling.

Covers 42 States

Temporarily, certain nearby non-dialable points such as Chambersburg, Littlestown, Spring York Springs will be reached by dialing digit "9" and giving the call details to the Gettysburg operator. On calls to more distant non-dialable points as well as person-to-person, credit card, coin box and other special types of calls, customers will dial zero for the long distance.

Confident they will get more than half of the Symington votes if they are released.

right after the crash and one of them died later. The bodies of four of the 17 missing crewmen were recovered Friday from a forward compartment of the cab.

No attempt will be made to raise the car until all the bodies have been removed, the Navy said.

Salvagers were afraid of losing some of the bodies in the swift ocean currents if the wreckage were moved.

Sift Sandy Bottom

Lt. Cmdr. F. P. Jordan, salvage operations officer, said he hoped to start raising the airship in about three days, depending upon the success of divers in locating the victims.

The soft sandy bottom around the wreck also was being searched for the missing men.

An inquiry board was reported centering its attending on the possibility that a regulating air ballast inside the helium filled envelope had ruptured, causing the ship to nose dive into the ocean.

However, a Navy spokesman said, "We won't know anything definite until the blimp is raised from the bottom and checked over."

Democratic

Former President Harry S. Truman's double-reverse decision not to attend the convention after all cast a deep pall of gloom over the Symington camp. Symington dismissed the decision with the comment that "Mr. Truman always does what he thinks is best."

Johnson Lectures

All of the presidential hopefuls came together Sunday night in a typical Hollywood setting — a festooned Beverly Hills hotel banquet room in which breathing space was at a premium.

Stevenson, greeted by a storm of applause, was lyrical. Tensely, Kennedy ripped off an old campaign speech at a furious gait. Symington played it down. He said nobody had done him wrong in the preliminaries of the convention, which gets under way late today.

Johnson, in the star billing as the last act on the show lectured the Democrats about the souring condition of a world in which Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev can threaten to launch rockets against this country if it interferes in Cuba's undulating affairs.

Despite brave statements by his rivals, Kennedy continued to fence them in. While they talked of delegate gains, he battered down the barriers to an early nomination.

California and its 81-vote delegation was one of these. With what his critics called characteristic indecision, Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced he is backing Kennedy. Brown said the delegates could go their independent ways.

But he later denied that this constituted a release from their pledge to vote for him on the first ballot. The delegation put off until Tuesday any poll of sentiment, but most of its members thought it would summon at least 60 votes for Kennedy toward the 761 he needs for the nomination.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

"Honest Abe's Qualifications For The Presidency": We have been looking over the Examiner of last week and compile the following among the reasons which our handsome friend, who does up the editorials for that paper, sets forth why "Honest Old Abe" should be elected President of the United States: 1st. Because "Old Abe" and his partner, Tom Hanks, split 3,000 rails in one year. 2nd. Because he has managed a flatboat on the Ohio River, and tells some rich anecdotes of his experience in the business. 3rd. Because he was a soldier in the Black Hawk war. 4th. Because he is a handsome man. 5th. Because he stands six feet four in his stockings. 6th. Because he is as simple as a child. 7th. Because he never swore but once in his life. 8th. Because he loves a good dinner. 9th. Because like a dutiful husband, when he heard of his nomination, he went down and told the "little woman at our house." 10th. Because he has a wife and three children.

Picnic: Hiawatha Temple of Honor, Social Temple, and Cadets of Temperance will join in a picnic at Spangler's Spring, Wednesday, the 4th. Rev. Mr. Sumwalt will deliver an address, and R. M. McLean will read the The Citizens Band will be present and enliven the exercises.
Mr. Solomon Powers, Gettysburg, is now furnishing granite for the street crossings in our neighboring town of Hanover, and the Editor of the Spectator appears to think they are just the thing, and will make their crossings "compare favorably with those of any town in the State."

Commencement: The annual Commencement at Mt. St. Mary's College, near Emmitsburg, took place on Wednesday. The number of ladies and gentlemen in attendance was thought larger than usual—really jammed the hall.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Attempt To Derail Train: An attempt was made on Thursday to derail a passenger train on the South Penn Branch of the Cumberland Valley Railroad, near Mercersburg, by placing ties and stones upon the track. It was discovered in time to avert any accident.

Harvest Home Pic-Nic: A Grand Harvest Home Pic-Nic will be held at Round Top Park on Saturday July 25, 1885. The whole County are invited to come and have a grand time. Elder's Orchestra and Dancing floor free.

Trouble In York County: They have trouble in York County over the fact that Republican postmasters have been allowed to renew their bonds. The chairman of the county Democratic committee wrote to Congressman Swope, asking why these Republicans had been reappointed. Mr. Swope replied that they had not been reappointed; but the York age insists that an order to renew a bond is an appointment.

General Sheridan: General Sheridan is going to try and ascertain whether it is bad Indians or bad white men who are making all the fuss.

CHICAGO (AP)—Chesser M. Campbell, 62, who rose from a subscription salesman to become president of the Tribune Co. and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, died Sunday in his sleep.

Death tentatively was attributed to a heart attack.
He was on a fishing vacation in Baie Comeau, Que., site of a Tribune newsprint plant.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Labor and Industry Department reports the value of building construction in 1959 reached a total of $837,109,618—the highest since 1955.

The construction total included 100,146 projects in 654 municipalities, the department said in a weekend statement.

Today's Talk

ON "RETIRING"
Being at the head of my own business, I can retire any time I wish, but if I ever do retire it will be to something new—the development of a hobby, perhaps, or a new interest.

We were created to grow. That is why it is possible to do so without interfering with all the valuable experience gained up to that day when new interests are created.

We should be happy to the last mile-post at the end of the trail. An inactive life is a dead one. Keep going! I think it was Brown- ington who suggested "the last of life, for which the first was made."

I can't imagine ever totally retiring from all work. We need our later years in order to emphasize our joy in the happier ones. Busy people do not "retire." They just quit. They look out upon plenty yet to do and useful work at that! I have viewed the sunshine years among my books and I cherish the thrill that every book has passed along to me. A great many of the useful and inspiring days of life have often been those at the end, which for many have been the beginnings of life.

Happy people do not retire. They just plan new things, and grow happier than they ever have been.

Don't let the thought of "retiring" some future day get you!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Worth"

Just Folks

THE FIRST QUARREL

Though the birds outside are singing
And the skies above are blue,
Though some wedding bells are ringing
And some hearts are beating true,
Life for me is not worth living;
It is dreary, dull and sad;
For my wife is unloving,
And she says that she'll stay mad.

Like a storm that sends no warning,
Like a bolt from perfect skies
Came the quarrel in the morning,
And it took me by surprise.
Angry words were passed between us,
Bitter words—the first we've had;
And my wife, once fair as Venus,
Now declares that she'll stay mad.

She was sitting blue and lonely
When I slipped behind her chair,
And I wished that she would only
Let me sit beside her there.
So I stooped and gently kissed her,
And her face was sweetly sad;
When I told her I had missed her,
She forgot that she was mad.

PREMIUM ON CUBAN SUGAR IS PAID BY CONSUMER

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—You pay the premium on Cuban sugar, not your government.

The grocery price of sugar—higher here than elsewhere in the world—is based on what U.S. sugar importers, refiners and distributors pay to sugar growers, millers and shippers, whether they be Cubans, Filipinos or Americans.

The premium—which isn't paid to the foreign government as such in checks from the U. S. Treasury—comes about this way:

The current price of granulated white cane sugar at the store is around 14 cents a pound. Part of that is the cost of distribution and handling, which is higher than it once was. Part is the cost of refining, also higher than formerly. Part is the cost of buying and shipping the raw sugar.

Reflects Difference
And better than two cents of that sugar price is the difference between the government-controlled price here and what sugar sells for on the world market outside the United States. Here the raw sugar price now is around 5½ cents a pound but going as high as 6½ cents where duty also is paid. The raw sugar price outside the United States has ranged recently just above or below three cents a pound.

This two to three-cents-a-pound spread in unrefined sugar as it comes from the mills runs into big money when American refiners buy some three million tons a year from Cubans and some six million pounds from all other sources.

That spread between world sugar prices and the price set here is what is referred to as the sugar subsidy. The same differential, varying in some instances due to U. S. tariffs and shipping costs, applies to all sugar raised either at home or abroad.

How It Works
Last week's trimming of the U. S. quota of sugar from Cuba is primarily a political matter rather than economic. But the U.S. quota system was originally set up in 1934, largely for economic reasons, with international politics in a secondary role.

The price in the United States today isn't set by outright price controls but by a sugar quota system aimed at tailoring supply to demand.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is instructed to cut the amount of raw sugar that can be brought here when prices drop below a level deemed reasonable. This lowers the supply and perks up prices. Also under the law the department lowers the amount refiners and dealers can buy when the price here drops more than is deemed desirable. This pinch on supplies causes a price rise.

NOT FIRST PA. WINNER

Leah Witmer, Carlisle R. 6, a student at the South Middleton Twp. High School in Cumberland County, was the first national cherry pie winner from Pennsylvania and not Jo Ann Williams as was stated incorrectly in an article recently by Mrs. Helen Tunison, county home economist, the Gettysburg Times is informed. Leah Witmer won in 1952 and with her teacher, Mrs. Ann H. Malone, was guest of honor at a Hotel Gettysburg banquet after her victory. The Times regrets the error.

Grocer Shot By His Burglar Trap

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Grocer B.C. Russell, 59, triggered a booby trap he had rigged to protect his store and was shot in the right side Sunday.

Russell, who intended to throw a watermelon in the garbage can, opened the back door of the store. The door jerked a string which discharged a .38 caliber pistol. His injury was not serious.

The device killed Earl Wayne Hanson, 21, last September after he had broken into the store.

KENNEDY TO GET 60 SOME PENNA. VOTES

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pennsylvania's delegation to the Democratic national convention today was expected to commit some 60 of its 81 votes for Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential nomination.

The 162-member contingent, headed by Gov. David Lawrence, maintained its technical neutrality as it gathered for its first convention caucus (noon, p.m.), which will be nationally televised.

But scores of backers of the Massachusetts senator inside the delegation confidently predicted Kennedy would get endorsement from two-thirds of the Pennsylvania bloc.

On his personal choice Lawrence maintained the silence he has held since last November's elections. Sens. Kennedy, Stuart Symington (Mo) and Lyndon B. Johnson (Texas) were called to address the caucus. Also invited was Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (Okla.) to speak on behalf of Adlai Stevenson, two-time unsuccessful candidate for president.

Today's activity capped weeks of speculation on whom Pennsylvania's big delegation would endorse. As late as last week sources close to the governor forecast a nearly even split among the top contenders.

But the delegations' neutrality began to collapse as its members gathered for their trip westward to the convention.

Though there had been token Kennedy backing announced after the April 26 primary, the first wholesale support for his candidacy developed last Friday among Philadelphia delegates.

Over the weekend U. S. Rep. William Green reportedly urged Lawrence to give his support to Kennedy.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Eight Catholic hospitals that have disaffiliated from Blue Cross participation report that they have had more patients since quitting the non-profit hospital insurance organization.

A spokesman said that the eight admitted 16,055 patients from April through June, compared with 15,884 for the same period in 1959. He said other hospitals in Philadelphia had experienced a 10 per cent decline in admissions in the same period.

Only six civilians, all technical advisers were aboard the U.S. nuclear submarine Triton which recently made the first trip around the world entirely under water.

EXPECT HALF TO FINISH IN "PUFF" RACE

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—About half the 79 planes in the all-weather powder puff derby were expected to finish the famed transcontinental race for female pilots today if the weather is good.

Drs. Margaret Densmore, 37, and Constance Volk, 58, two Media Pa., physicians, were the first to cross the finish line Sunday. They touched down at New Castle County Airport shortly before 6 p.m.

They did not, however, win the 2,509 mile race for light planes. The race is judged on a handicap basis with only total elapsed flight time counting.

Took Off Saturday
The women took off Saturday morning from Torrance, Calif., and were required to fly only during daylight hours. They have until Wednesday to finish.

By nightfall Sunday night the women were strung out at airports from Amarillo, Tex., to Chattanooga, Tenn. Forty-three planes were at Fort Smith, Ark. Seventeen were at Memphis, Tenn., and two at Chattanooga.

Four More Ford Plants Are Closed

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. said four more plants will be shut down today because of production bottlenecks caused by the strike at its big stamping plant in suburban Walton Hills.

The new closings will bring to 20,000 the number of men idled by the walkout that shut down the stamping plant Wednesday.

Affected by the new closings will be assembly plants for standard-size cars at Chester, Pa., Atlanta, Dallas and St. Paul. These plants employ a total of about 5,000 production workers.

Four plants assembling compact cars already have been closed because of a shortage of parts.

Trusty Walks Off; Charge Jail Break

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—"I got tired chasing baseballs and went for a walk. When I realized how late it was I panicked. I knew that everyone had checked in and I was afraid to go back."

This was John C. Motley's explanation Sunday when police picked him up at his family's home in nearby Port Carbon some 24 hours after the trusty walked away from the Schuylkill County prison.

Motley, 27, serving a 1½-year term for stealing a fire chief's car, had been placed on a street outside the prison to shag balls that were hit over the wall during a baseball game Saturday.

He was charged with prison breach.

IKE, HERTER RESUME TALKS

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter resume talks today on the mounting Cuban crisis and Soviet rocket-rattling support of the Castro regime.

The President and Herter held a first round of discussions at the summer White House Sunday night, just 24 hours after Eisenhower had sternly warned the Soviet Union against trying to set up a Cuban regime dominated by international communism.

Eisenhower and Herter arranged an early morning fresh analysis of the situation.

Their meeting at the President's office at the Newport Naval Base was scheduled with Roy R. Rubottom, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, and other aides.

Herter, who flew here from Washington Sunday and plans to return shortly after today's session, declined comment on the conference he had with Eisenhower Sunday night. So did White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, who sat in at the huddle. Both that meeting and the one today had an agenda item related to the Cuban crisis—a U.S. plan for goodwill aid to Latin American nations.

YOUNG IDAHO SENATOR GETS KEYNOTE JOB

By BOB BARNES

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A good-looking boyish face with twinkling eyes, topped by a shock of thick black hair, holds the nation's spotlight tonight.

Sen. Frank Church, at 35 the youngest senator, for a time will be the voice of the Democrats.

The party banks on him to carry the fight to the Republicans as temporary chairman and keynote speaker at the Democratic National Convention's opening session. He says he's ready.

Took Direct Role

Church is a young man who knew where he wanted to go: to the United States Senate. Now he's there, and he says that's where he wants to stay for a good, long time.

When he decided on public life, he took the direct route. He studied oratory and debate in high school and wound up 20 years ago by winning the American Legion's national speaking contest. That meant a four-year college scholarship. Then he became a lawyer as a prelude to entering Idaho politics.

He has come a long way since his father, a Boise, Idaho, sporting goods merchant, unwittingly sparked young Frank's interest in politics by arguments across the dinner table. The late Sen. William E. Borah also excited his admiration.

His dad might have had some doubts about his son's convention role if he were alive—the elder Church was a staunch Republican whose pet peeve was the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Blame Gas Leak For $150,000 Fire

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fire officials today blamed a leaky gas pipe for the $150,000 blaze which swept the Reliance Steel Casting Co. plant in Pittsburgh's Lawrenceville section.

Pittsburgh Fire Chief Stephen Adley said either heat or sparks from plant furnaces ignited leaking gas fumes. This triggered an explosion which touched off the fire.

The blaze broke out late Saturday night in the center of the black-long brick and steel building. Some 100 firemen battled the flames for an hour and a half.

Adley made the damage estimate. No one was injured in the blaze.

P.A. AMVETS HOLD ELECTION

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Bernard McGowan of McKeesport is the new department commander for the Pennsylvania AMVETS.

McGowan was elected to the post Sunday as the AMVETS closed their 16th annual convention. He succeeds Vance E. Beachley of Harrisburg.

Other new officers elected were:

Robert Joy of Pottsville, Schuylkill County, first vice commander; Steve Bigus of Lynnwood, Luzerne County, second vice commander; B. Earnest Long of Export, Westmoreland County, judge advocate; Fred Bogatay of Export, western vice commander; Vernon Millett of Camp Hill, Cumberland County, central vice commander; John Steppo of St.

crats so I could argue with dad," Church says. "I ended by converting myself."

MAN PASSES TEST AT 85

HARRISBURG (AP)—First reports on the physical examination phase of Gov. Lawrence's traffic safety program indicate less than one per cent of applicants have been rejected as unfit to drive.

Clair, Schuylkill County, eastern vice commander; Paul Kern of Harrisburg, department adjutant; and Jerry Goreman of Reading, finance officer.

Delegates to the three-day convention also voted to hold their 1961 convention in Reading next June.

However, the State Revenue Department said in a weekend statement, another six per cent failed to pass the vision test. They were told to see their eye specialist and then reapply.

The physicals have been required of all new applicants for drivers' licenses since June 1. During the first month, the department said, eight of the 12,411 applicants failed the test.

The oldest persons to apply was a man 85 years old. He passed. Traffic Safety Commissioner O. D. Shipley said 129 persons 61 years or older applied and only two were rejected. One was a 63-year-old woman and the other an 80-year-old man. Three teen-age applicants were turned down. The ages of the other three persons

WIFE KICKED BY HUSBAND DIES

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—An Erie man is in Erie County Jail today on charges of fatally injuring his wife by kicking her.

Mrs. Mary Jones, 34, died in St. Vincent Hospital Saturday shortly after her husband, Sylvanus, 42, was picked up for questioning in the case.

Detectives said Jones kicked his wife in the abdomen June 19 after knocking her down during a quarrel. Police said they had been drinking.

Mrs. Jones was hospitalized with a punctured intestine the day she failed the physical were 48, 22 and 53.

next day. Her condition grew worse and she died Saturday as officers walked into her room with Jones.

WOOD YOU BELIEVE IT?

SUMMIT, N.J. (AP)—Archie F. Wilson is a University of Illinois' research associate in anatomy—wood anatomy to be exact.

The 57-year-old industrialist conservatively values his extensive collection of 6,000 carved, glued, turned, or laminated wood objects from all over the world at $10,000.

When he moved here from Decatur, Ill., 11 years ago it cost him more to move his wood collection than his furniture. Wilson, who studies his wood objects through a high-powered microscope, prefers the intellectual to the functional approach to wood expertise. There are two schools of thought concerning wood, he explained, "but I wouldn't call them splinter groups."

WASN'T SATISFIED
RICHMOND, Ky. (AP)—John Will Adams says a turkey gobbler on his farm apparently has the maternal instinct. The gobbler chased a guinea hen off her nest and has been sitting on the eggs himself ever since, Adams said.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A victory for Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts — who seemed to have the presidential nomination sewed up before the Democratic convention opened today — will bring a gush of explanations, some too glib, some too pat, and some with only temporary significance.

Kennedy, for instance, beat the bushes all year looking for delegates, ran in the primaries, and visited most states while his closest rivals, Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Stuart Symington of Missouri, ran in no primaries, met far fewer people, relied more on contacts with professional politicians.

But it doesn't follow that would-be presidents in 1964 will have to imitate Kennedy in the belief the more people they meet and the more publicity they get the better their chances. You don't have to look further than Adlai E. Stevenson for a recent contrary example.

In 1952 he was governor of Illinois, admired by some important politicians, did no campaigning, didn't want the nomination, was known to very few convention delegates, and hardly at all by most Americans. Nevertheless, he wound up with the nomination handed to him.

This year there seemed no doubt he yearned for a third chance, but as the convention opened he looked like a sad also-ran. He was by then a two-time loser in the presidential race, and the delegates were reluctant to take a chance on him again. He said he wouldn't ask them to.

It just happened that in 1952 there were no outstanding candidates. In that kind of vacuum the eloquent Stevenson looked like a natural. This year none of the Democratic candidates could be called a dominant figure.

Not Necessarily So
Perhaps when that is the case in the future hard work will pay off for some other candidate as it appeared to do this year for Kennedy. But the memory of the unwilling Stevenson of 1952 says this idea isn't necessarily so.

The fact that all the announced candidates this year were senators does not prove that the nation in the future will look more toward Congress for its presidents and less toward other public men, particularly governors who were more or less in political eclipse this year.

For example: On the Republican ticket New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would have been a standout—no Republican senator is close to him in prestige or public awareness of him—if Vice President Richard M. Nixon hadn't built himself up through performance and contacts as the No. 1 man.

Felt Obligation
Johnson indicated on TV last week he felt an obligation, as Democratic leader of the Senate, to stay close to his job. Therefore, he couldn't tear around the country, as Kennedy did, trying to line up delegates.

Instead he seemed to rely on the power of fellow senators and Democratic House members to rally support for him in a big way. This will look like a mistake in strategy if Kennedy wins the nomination. But that wouldn't necessarily be true, either.

For instance, Johnson is from

The South. That alone is a handicap to any politician looking for a presidential nomination at a time when the racial issue is still such a problem in the South.

But if Johnson's record in Senate leadership and voting—particularly on civil rights and labor—had been satisfactory to big city Negroes and organized labor, satisfactory enough for them to support him, all of Kennedy's efforts this year might have counted for nothing.

Bishop Says Age Of Unity Is Here

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Roman Catholic bishop from North Carolina says the world has begun a new era of unity despite international tension and the threat of war.

"I believe we have come to the age of unity, of synthesis, of building-up," declared Bishop Vincent S. Waters of Raleigh. "It wasn't too long ago that we began to think of one world, of even the common man."

The bishop made his remarks Sunday at a mass opening the 28th biennial convention of the Catholic Daughters of America.

Delegates from 36 states and Puerto Rico are attending the convention which runs through Thursday.

INJURED BOY WALKS FOR AID

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy survived a crash of a small plane and then, seriously injured, walked over five miles for aid.

Killed in the crash were Mrs. R. C. Sasser, mother of Randy Sasser, and R. H. Myles, 37, pilot of the plane. All were from Waycross, Ga. The single engine Comanche crashed Sunday night atop Mt. Atena, about eight miles southwest of here. Tennessee highway patrolmen said the man and woman were thrown from the plane. Wreckage was spread over some 50 square feet.

Randy, seriously injured after being thrown from the plane, staggered through heavy underbrush to a dirt road and down the mountain to the home of Xen Austin. After he told his story he was taken to a Chattanooga hospital where he was listed in fair condition with lacerations, abrasions and a possible broken leg.

There are municipalities named Washington in 11 states, not counting the one in the District of Columbia.

17 Killed In Pa. Mishaps; Set Mark For Pedestrians

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thirteen persons were killed in traffic accidents in Pennsylvania over the weekend, including eight pedestrians, five of whom were injured fatally by a single car as they walked across a highway. Four other accidental deaths pushed the toll to 17.

Six pedestrian victims—on week end outings—were killed by autos which ran out of control and had plowed into them.

One of these victims was Sandra Bower, 13, of Jersey Shore. She was picnicking with her aunt, uncle and cousin Sunday when an auto ran off Route 84 near English Center in Lyncoming County and struck her. Four other persons were injured in the accident, two seriously.

Driver Charged

State police said the auto driven by M. W. Horam, 69, of Williamsport, apparently went out of control after passing another vehicle.

On Friday night five teen-agers were walking along a dark country road near Carbondale joking and laughing when an auto driven by a 19-year-old boy plowed into them.

The victims were Judy Stine, 16, of Olyphant; Carole Ligi, 16, of Peckville; Patrick Caviston III, 16; his cousin, Ambrose O'Rourke, 17, and Thomas Clause, 17, all of Carbondale.

Police quoted the driver of the car, Wayne Williams of Uniondale R. 1, as saying he had swerved to avoid hitting two hitchhikers. He was charged with involuntary manslaughter.

Say Record Was Set

The National Safety Council said in Chicago that according to its available records this was the highest number of pedestrians ever killed by one auto in a single accident in the nation.

Miss Virginia A. Shank, 21, a waitress at a drive-in restaurant near her Erie home, was killed Saturday when a car shot forward and pinned her against the wall of the restaurant. Police said the driver put his car in forward gear but thought he had shifted into reverse.

The other victims:

Latrobe—John Crawford, 21, of Latrobe, killed Saturday when the car in which he was riding careened off Route 30 and overturned near here.

Doped Defendant To Get New Trial

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) — George W. Craig, convicted of first degree murder in the fatal shooting of Clarence E. Nellis, has been granted a new trial. It is scheduled to begin on Sept. 19.

Craig, 43, was granted the new trial Saturday by Judge Clyde S. Shumaker of Butler County. The jurist ruled that sleeping pills taken by Craig during his first trial prevented him from helping to defend himself.

Craig, in his appeal, stated that the pills were smuggled into his jail cell.

He was convicted June 8 on charges of shooting to death Nellis of Boyers R. 1, last Dec. 26. The jury fixed the penalty at life imprisonment.
